A special meeting of the Pioneer Ports was held on August 23, 2017, at Boyer Park and Marina, 1753 Lower Granite Rd, Colfax, WA, pursuant to notice duly given.

Commissioner Love called the meeting to order and welcomed everyone at 6:10 p.m.

ATTENDANCE:

In attendance were Commissioner Rick Davis and staff member, Belinda Campbell from the Port of Clarkston; Commissioner Mary Hasenoehrl, Commissioner Mike Thomason and Commissioner Jerry Klemm from the Port of Lewiston; Commissioner John Love, Commissioner Tom Kammerzell, Commissioner Kristine Meyer and staff member, Debbie Snell from the Port of Whitman County.

ACTIVE AGENDA: -- None

DISCUSSION:

Riverfest – The Port of Clarkston reported on the upcoming Riverfest celebration and activities slated for September 30, 2017. Belinda Campbell distributed site maps and talked about event sponsors. Port of Whitman staff will contact Dave Doeringsfeld for a schedule for the activity/information booth for possible participation.

Employee Promotion, Port of Clarkston -- Commissioner Rick Davis reported that Belinda Campbell is now the Operations manager at the Port of Clarkston. Congratulations were given to Belinda by the group.

River Issues – There was a short discussion on river issues that included information about a meeting with legislative staffer in the Tri-Cities focused on the importance of the Columbia-Snake river system, as series of articles in the Idaho Statesman about the river system and the Snake River dams and an upcoming Free the Snake Flotilla in early September.

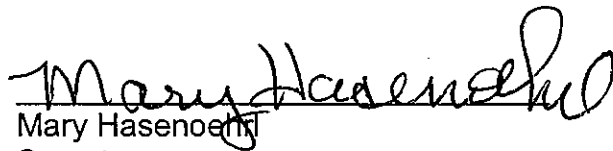

OVERVIEW OF PORT PROJECTS AND ACTIVITIES:

All three ports gave updates on their current activities including construction projects, fiber projects and tenant activities.

OTHER BUSINESS:

The next host of the Pioneer Ports will be Clarkston. Early November was considered for the next meeting but a definite date will have to be confirmed.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned at approximately 8:06 p.m.
